

said upper and lower containers having a total height less than said internal housing height.

9. (New) The dishwashing machine according to claim 8, including said lower container is arranged height-adjustably above a pedestal recess set back on said housing.

10. (New) The dishwashing machine according to claim 8, including said upper and lower containers have different heights.

11. (New) The dishwashing machine according to claim 10, including said upper container has a height greater than the height of said lower container.

12. (New) The dishwashing machine according to claim 9, including said housing having a pair of front and a pair of rear installation feet attached thereto.

13. (New) The dishwashing machine according to claim 12, including said pair of front installation feet are set back on said housing at least as far as said pedestal recess.

14. (New) The dishwashing machine according to claim 12, including said pair of front and said pair of rear installation feet being height adjustable.